

Hello,

My name is Mollie Steggall and I am a Sydney based Graphic Designer. I have worked across branding, editorial design and UX design and have extensive knowledge of a wide range of design focused programs, including the Adobe CC Suite, Sketch and Invision.

A little bit about me; upon graduating with my High School Certificate I was offered a guaranteed place at UNSW to study Architecture. However I deferred this proposal and spent the following 6 months in Europe where I developed my photography and videography skills through the creation of short films. This redirected me into the field of digital media and graphics. Returning to Sydney I dedicated my time to learning the Adobe programs and, self taught, landed a position as a junior graphic designer for a digital agency. I worked in this role for the best part of a year before receiving a scholarship to study Design at Shillington. I took this opportunity to enhance my prior knowledge and have since graduated.

I am a positive, passionate and motivated individual willing to dedicate myself to the work that I do, diligently, with a high standard and an exceptional level of attention to detail. I am currently looking for a position where I can utilise my expertise in design and brand strategy within a collaborative creative environment. Whilst being a valued member of the team, I am also eager to expand my current skill set and will expect a company culture which allows me to do so. Please see my portfolio for examples of my work.

Kind Regards,
Mollie Steggall

EXPERIENCE

Spacenow (Mar 2018 - May 2018)

Junior Graphic Design Intern

Spacenow is a Sydney based company which has developed a global platform for sharing commercial spaces. As a part of the Spacenow marketing team, it was my role to create all content for their social media streams and marketing campaigns, with the objective of on-boarding both hosts and users to the platform. This position included the production of graphics and branded promotional material to use across both print and digital platforms.

Spacenow (May 2018 - Sep 2018)

Junior Graphic Designer & Content Creator

My position at Spacenow continued to expand as newly introduced marketing strategies required photography and video based content. Being skilled in those mediums, I was taken on as the content creator in conjunction with my position as a graphic designer. My additional responsibilities included the production of photography and video content, post production editing, and generating all content for collaborations & events nationwide; to be distributed across social channels and as part of the 'Activated Space Campaign' which we launched during my employment at the company.

Return On Click (Mar 2018 - Sep 2018)

Junior Graphic Designer & Content Creator

Return On Click is a digital agency with a diverse client base ranging from the health & beauty industry to tax consulting services. Working as the graphic designer, my responsibility was to design continual website updates for paying clients and design entire site templates for new customers. This involved wire-framing and UX design for both web and mobile to be delivered to the client for review within strict deadlines.
