

Was raised in China, I came to Australia in 2009 and is now pursuing my dream as an Architect. I believe that all different kinds of design are not isolated. They are inter-weaving.

I was educated as an architectural graduate. I had my first professional experience after my graduation in an interior consultant firm. I am lucky that I could stand aside and review architecture from a different point of view.

I am now actively looking for an architectural related job, a challenged position in a professional setting that allows me to utilize my attained knowledge and equipped abilities, and can have me contributing as part of your proud team.
